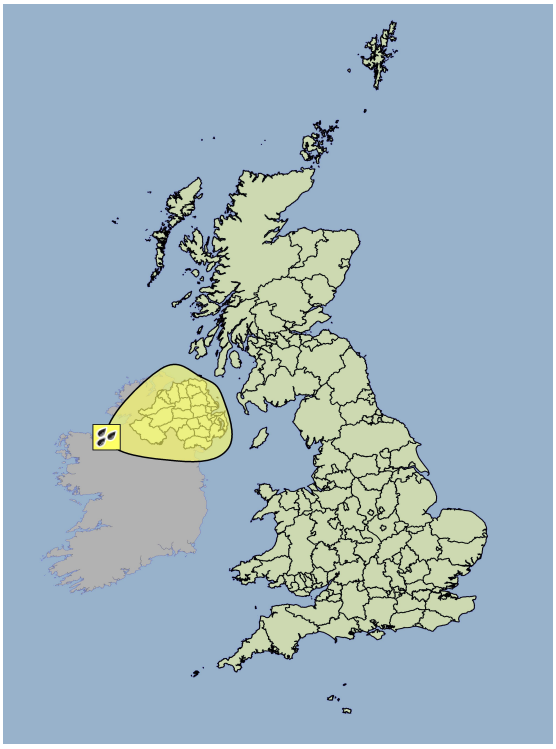
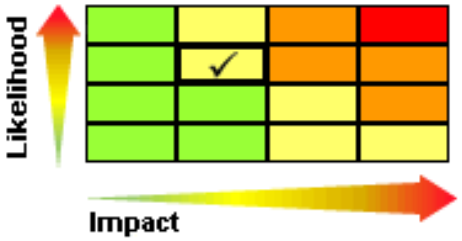
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A deep depression is moving slowly northeast to pass to the north of Northern Ireland early on Friday. Bands of heavy rain moving around the depression in unstable air will move across Northern Ireland bringing 20-30 mm of rain in 3-6 hours to some locations, chiefly in the west. Blustery winds may accompany the rain with gusts of 40-50 mph possible in exposed spots.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 18:00 on Thu, 28th Aug 2014 until 05:00 on Fri, 29th Aug 2014

Bands of heavy rain will move northeast across Northern Ireland on Thursday evening into the early hours of Friday. The rain is likely to be accompanied, in places, by strong and gusty winds. Western parts of Northern Ireland appear most at risk. Much of the rain will clear eastwards later in the night.

The public should be aware of the risk of minor disruption to travel through the combination of locally heavy rain and gusty winds.
